E. H. FOLLARD, Esq.

The Scheme of a Local Bank for this Colony with Branches at the most important places in China, has been in contemplation for a very long period.

The local and foreign trade in Hongkong and at the open ports in China and Japan has increased so rapidly within the last few years that additional Banking facilities are felt to be required.

The Banks now in China being only branches of Corporations whose head quarters are in England or India, and which were formed chiefly with the view of carrying on exchange operations between those countries and China, are scarcely in a position to deal satisfactorily with the local trade which has become so much more extensive and varied than in former years.

This deficiency the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Company will supply, and will in fact assume the same position with relation to this Colony as the Presidency Banks in India, or the Banks of Australia in their respective localities.

The Establishment of a Mint in Hongkong, providing an adequate supply of proper currency, will render a local Banking medium essential to carry out its operations, and the utmost certain disappearance of the existing Compradorie system (so far as money is concerned) will also ensure Banks becoming in course of time the exclusive medium for the transaction of the monetary operations connected with trade.

For the anticipated success of this enterprise there are therefore ample grounds; and the great prosperity which has attended the working of other local associations in China clearly shows that the largest profits are obtained by those Public Companies which possess an interested local body of Proprietors or Shareholders whose support naturally forms a chief element of remunerative success.

The Bank will commence operations simultaneously in Hongkong and Shanghai and as the importance of the business at the latter place must be very great, it is intended to establish a local Board of Directors there for more effectually managing the work. As circumstances render it advisable the Bank will establish Branches at other places.

In the distribution of Shares Hongkong and Shanghai will equally participate. Shares will also be reserved for the other ports in China and Japan and for persons residing elsewhere, who are directly interested in the China Trade.

Applications for Shares must be addressed until further notice, to the Provisional Committee, care of

CANTON VOLUNTEERS.

The Commandant begs to thank Capt. Mout, Officers and Members of the Corps, for the creditable manner in every way, in which they turned out yesterday afternoon for his inspection on Shameen. Considering the short time the Corps has been formed and its only having within the last few days received its Rifles, great praise is due to the Volunteer Drill Instructor. The Commandant hopes the Members will continue their attendance when ordered, at the muster of their Corps, and thereby pass in all their Drill before the Hot Season sets in. To allow of Rifle Practice commencing as soon as possible—Targets and one Hundred, Rounds of Ball ammunition per man will be furnished as the Commandant proceeds immediately Home on the 15th Inst., he takes this last opportunity of again thanking the Members of the Corps for the way in which they have come forward, and Capt. Mout, in particular for the successful manner in which he has reared so delicate a plant as a Volunteer Corps especially where the climate, as in China, is so great an enemy.

THE COMMERCIAL BANK OF INDIA.

THIS Company has been formed for the purpose of purchasing a site in the Colony of Hongkong for Docks and constructing Docks and erecting suitable Premises thereon for carrying on the Business of Building or Docking and Repairing Steamers and Sailing Vessels, and for the purchase of the Docks now owned and carried on at Whampoa by Messrs. T. HUNT & Co. with the Appurtenances Plant and Good-will of the Docking Business of that Firm.

It is proposed to register the Company as one of Limited Liability either under the Imperial Act or under any Ordinance which the local Legislature may pass enabling local Companies to do so, the property of the Company in the meantime being vested in the Trustees, and the Deed of Settlement of the Company, now in course of preparation, is being framed in accordance with this intention.

The very considerable increase in the number of Vessels employed in what may be termed local trade, or in voyages that either originate or terminate, at Hongkong, in addition to the great quantity of tonnage visiting the Port from all quarters of the World, afford ample scope for the remunerative operations of Dock Companies, in addition to those which are already in existance.

Application has been made to Her Majesty's Government with reference to obtaining a site for the proposed Docks in the Colony, and the project has been favourably entertained, steps being in progress to facilitate this object, the necessary preliminary investigations as to the suitable character of the proposed site having been conducted and satisfactorily reported upon, by Mr. S. B. RAWLINS.

Liberal support has been promised to the undertaking which it is contemplated must necessarily prove a very remunerative one.

Further applications for Shares can till further notice be addressed to the Undersigned from whom forms of application and all particulars can be obtained.

Counsel for the Company.

Cotton 111—

We are desired by Mr. Lewis to state that subject to the completion of the proper arrangements, his Company will give a performance at Canton on Saturday evening next. The programme will be "Faint Heart never win a Fair Lady," a Dance, and "The Water Witches."

It is essential, we imagine, that all Governments in their dealings with other nations, should act upon fixed principles, and furthermore that such fixed principles should be based on international law. It will never do for a strong power to commit aggression on a weak one, on the principle of right making might, because whatever act a strong power may justify, can be committed on itself. For instance a Federal ship of war lately captured a Confederate cruizer in the harbor of Bahia. Should the Federal government justify the act, the Cabinet of Washington will be bound by the principles it bases the justification upon—and should a British or a French ship of war, at some future time, applying the same principles, cut a Russian man of war out of an American port, why little more need be said on the subject, although we suppose there would naturally be tremendous excitement in the States.

But let us put a case that comes nearer home, and bears more directly on the arguments we are about to urge. Suppose a Federal picket were to make a raid into Canada for the purpose of arresting a Confederate agent; who we will further suppose, was captured and carried off! The case is a very simple one indeed, and therefore the question which arises out of it requires not the least amplification. The British government would doubtless require satisfaction, and the probability is, were it refused that a calamitous war would be the result.

Here however we arrive at the point which we desire to illustrate. Suppose the Federal government were to turn round on the British Minister, and urge as a precedent, and also as justification, the fact of the British authorities having resorted to the same practice in relation to the territories of a weak power? How would the matter stand then?

It would hardly do for the British Minister to urge that such acts only concern the power on whose territory the aggression may have been committed—and therefore in no way concern the United States Government. Such an argument is untenable, because it would permit the principle of might making right.

We remember some years ago, on the occasion of Mr. Markwick's absence on leave, the present first Magistrate, being then Superintendent of Police, chartered a steamer, and proceeded to the murderer's native place, where he demanded and obtained the culprit's surrender.

The whole affair redounded to the credit both of Mr. May's head and his heart, but on the facts becoming known to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, the proceeding was strongly disapproved of, and express orders were given that Chinese territory should on no account be thereafter invaded, but should be held as inviolable as International law requires.

With reference to the repeated violations of neutrality, and to the habitual departures of the British authorities in China from the provisions of the foreign enlistment act;—we shall say nothing; firstly because we are not capable of coming to any reliable conclusion regarding these matters, and secondly because all the treaty powers sanctioned and participated in the incongruous course pursued.

But a case has occurred lately which neither neutrality nor the foreign enlistment act can at all bear upon, and which presents such a palpable instance of the violation of international law, that we think some notice should be taken of it. We submit that a precedent may be derived from it which the British government will never allow to be applied to themselves, and therefore it is about time either that such practises should be repudiated and discontinued, or that some degree of system and legality should be evoked to sanction and to justify them.

The case was as follows.—A Chinese butler, who is a man of industry and repute, and who practised his vocation in this colony, was kidnapped under the following circumstances. He received a false intimation that his services were required on board a certain British vessel of war at a certain time. On the way thither he was taken out of the sampan which he had hired and was made off with. The man-stealer communicated indirectly with that captive's friends, and offered to ransom him for one thousand dollars.

Mr. Cecil Smith, the acting Registrar General, in a highly praiseworthy manner, took the matter in hand and obtained reliable information. It seems that the poor barber was confined in a village about eight miles beyond the head of Deep Bay; and that the negociations for the ransom were carried on through the medium of a doctor, who resided in a village situated between the place of confinement and Deep Bay. Mr. Smith actually conceived the project of arresting this doctor and at the same time of liberating the barber. He accordingly applied to the Senior Officer, and obtained the use of H. M. gun-boat Woodcock. Mr. Boxer of the Reiver (master commanding) was induced to take charge, and accompanied by the acting Registrar General, proceeded up Deep Bay, without loss of time, as far as the depth of water would allow him to go. He then manned his boats, and after penetrating the country by means of a small river or creek which empties itself into the Bay, he landed and proceeded to the village where the doctor dwelt. The house of this man was surrounded, and his person being secured, a portion of the force (which consisted in all of some five and twenty men) was left in charge of him, whilst the others, led by their commander, and accompanied by the acting Registrar General, proceeded to the village where the barber was confined. On reaching this village, it was found deserted. The lanes and alleys were traversed, the captive's name being called out as the search was being prosecuted. After a little perseverance the man replied, when of course his whereabout was discovered and he was released.

He had been most cruelly treated. His wrists and ankles were lashed and he had been carried from place to place by means of a bamboo passed under the lashings—in the same cruel manner that pigs used to be carried about the streets here, until the authorities interposed with some proper notions of humanity.

The expedition then returned—picked up the party they had left in charge of the doctor, took that individual captive, and brought him with them to Hongkong together with the barber. The doctor, we believe was charged with kidnapping and stands committed to take his trial at the next Criminal Session.

Personally, we have not one word of objection to urge. On the contrary, we admire the zeal, the courage, the tact and the good management of Messrs Boxer and Smith, and so must every body who reads this recital. But we fear that the act may form one of many, in reference to violations of the territory of the Emperor of China, which may be quoted as a precedent to the great prejudice of British diplomacy. And if we be right, we fear that Messrs Boxer and Smith may receive a reprimand which may be extremely annoying to them.

The Chinese authorities appear to have abandoned the Empire to its fate; no complaint from them is probable, and even were it made it could easily be disposed of. If it be that this apathy on the part of the Mandarins, excludes China from the application of international law, well and good—but we doubt that doctrine, and esteem it an especially dangerous one.

We find the following startling item of intelligence in the Weekly Alta California of 5th November. This will give our readers some idea of the reliance they should place on the accounts they may read of the progress of the American telegraphic lines. We make no doubt if the whole thing is not a bubble, it will very soon become one in so far as China is concerned. Neither the British government, nor the British community will ever submit to the wires on this Coast being in the hands of an American Company. A more quixotic concession could not be entertained. The history of United States diplomacy in China forbids it—their policy has but one aim and end, namely antagonism to British interests. Such is the jealousy and acrimony of the leading American firms towards the British, that although it enjoys all the protection, facilities, and privileges of Her Majesty's subjects in this colony, yet nevertheless, senseless vituperation is openly indulged in with reference to all British institutions. It is about time that such unseemly conduct was either stopped or that retaliation in the form of public opinion should rebuke it.

Of one thing the public may be certain—namely, that British interests will be jeopardised should either steam or telegraphic communication in the East fall into the hands of the Americans. They are as aggressive as they are encroaching, and although we are advocates for progress, still we do not desire to see it practised to the prejudice of material British interests.

From the Weekly Alta California of 5th November.

The East India Telegraph Company.

We have received the prospectus of the Company bearing the above title, chartered by special act of the Legislature of the State of New York, with a capital of $1,000,000, with the privilege of increasing it to two millions—$700,000 of the stock being set apart to be disposed of in America, $100,000 in Europe, and $100,000 in China. This Company will proceed at once to the construction of a line of telegraph in the Chinese Empire, connecting the cities of Canton, Hongkong, Amoy, Foochow, Ningpo, Shanghai, Nankin and Pekin, and also intermediate places. This line forms a connecting link between that now being constructed under the grants obtained by P. McD. Collins, uniting the San Francisco Telegraph with Pekin via Behrings Straits, and the Russian line from Calcutta to Canton, and will complete the chain of telegraph from New York to the continent of Europe and Great Britain.

The officers of the Company are as follows:—President James L. Day. Secretary, P. H. Johnson. Treasurer, George Ellis. Resident Director and Executive Officer in China, Augustine Heard, Jr. Directors, James L. Day, Isaac Livermore, Theodore Dehone, Nicholas Hallet, Matthew Vassar, Wm. H. Fogg, Isaac A. Bull, Charles S. Wescott, F. L. Johnson. Resident Directors in China, Augustine Heard, Jr., (of the house of Augustine Heard & Co.) John F. Twombly, (of the house of Bull, Purdon & Co.) James Purdon, (of the house of Bull, Purdon & Co.)

Madame Duret.

Opinions of the Press.

On Thursday evening, according to announcement, the celebrated drama of Jack Sheppard was played for the benefit of Mdlle Marie Duret. We predicted last week that the talented beneficiary would be honored by a bumper—and this prediction was more than verified, for long before the opening of the doors, the Theatre was besieged by twice as many as it could by any possibility contain. Outside opening of the doors, the rush to gain admittance was terrific. Some of the doors were nearly forced off their hinges, and the wood on each side of the money-taker's head driven in some inches. Indeed this gentleman was for some time under reasonable apprehensions that his bag would be forcad from its mooring, and the money he had taken, like the goods of an auctioneer, he submitted to public competition. Fortunately the box stood its ground, but the audience, on getting their checks, rushed wildly right or left, as the pressure from without impelled them. The consequence was that "equal rights" was the order of the night. We have never seen the character of "Jack Sheppard," so truthfully portrayed. Mdlle Duret as the hero, evinced all the reckless daring of the hardened and misguided original; her exertions were eminently successful, and were loudly applauded. The piece was repeated on Friday in consequence of the many hundreds of persons who had paid the admission for the previous night. Fedlar's Acre was played on Saturday night, to the great disappointment of hundreds who went in the expectation of seeing Mdlle Duret repeat Jack Sheppard. —Sheffield Iris.

The charming young actress, Mdlle Duret takes leave of us this evening. Her efforts during the past three weeks have been most successful. Her impersonations have been marked with rare ability and taste, evincing not only a close study and a correct conception of character, in whatever she undertakes; but the possession by her of all the qualities, both natural and acquired, calculated to make her a general and lasting favorite. She appears to-night for the 12th time, as "Jack Sheppard," in the favorite drama of that name. Her exertions in this arduous character, it is almost needless to state, have been most eminently successful, even beyond the hope of her most sanguine admirers, and their name is legion. She certainly has no "equal" on the stage as Jack Sheppard.—Cork Reviews.

Last evening the thrilling domestic drama of Jack Sheppard was produced, under the immediate direction of Mdlle Maria Duret, who sustained the the character of the hero of the piece. The Management deserve great praise for the material viz: Scenery, &c. &c., which they provided, and which vastly aided the fair lady in her exertions to gratify the public, and if the applause and enthusiasm of the audience may be taken as a criterion, they were indeed crowned with success. We have rarely, if ever, seen anything on the stage so beautiful as the grouping and tableaux; they were without an exception a perfect study for a painter. We cannot close our remarks without mentioning the "feature" of the evening. The Jack Sheppard of Mdlle Duret was a living picture of this unfortunate and misguided boy, as drawn by the hand of that great artist, Mr. Harrison Ainsworth
